Ku-Klux Organized to Control the Negro Vote — Executive Clemency—Arms Refused the Southern States—Government Suit in France—Postal Contracts—Indian Disturbances.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, August 20, 1868.

THE NEGRO VOTE SOUTH.

From letters constantly being received here there is no doubt that the movement in the South to control the negro vote, through the agency of landholders and employers, who refuse to employ colored laborers unless they vote the Democratic ticket, is assuming extensive proportions and pervading every State. A letter received to-day, addressed to a Senator, from a New York gentleman who has been traveling on the Mississippi river, says: The system of terrorism is so successfully used in Mississippi that it is now inaugurated in Tennessee, and is much more efficient and thorough. The land holders are, by the agency of the Ku Klux, controlling the suffrage of negroes, and unless some thorough and decided action shall be taken to vindicate the rights and privileges of the blacks, Tennessee most surely will be lost. He says he has information from a trustworthy source that the Ku Klux of Tennessee are thoroughly organized and number nearly one hundred and sixty thousand. He says the twelve rebel Generals lately assembled at Nashville are leaders of the Klan, and this is confirmed by letters from parties who say that the ostensible purpose of thes rebels meeting in conclave was not the real one, and their fair talk is purely strategy and done to create public opinion.

EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY.

Executive clemency having been asked in the case of William J. Talar, Thomas Powers and David Watkins, charged with the murder of a negro named Archie Beebe, in North Carolina, sentenced to death by a military commission, upon a full consideration of the case the President has issued the following order: "The unexecuted portion of the sentences in each of the cases of Wm. J. Talar, Thos. Powers and David Watkins, as mitigated on the sixth day of November, 1868, by Brevet Major General E. R. S. Canby, while commanding the Second Military District, is hereby remitted, and the Secretary of War will issue the necessary orders for their release from military imprisonment.

ANDREW JOHNSON."

The negro killed by these men had committed a rape upon the person of a beautiful and accomplished white girl named Eleanor Massay.

COMMISSIONS ISSUED.

The following is a list of the storekeepers under the new Internal Revenue law whose commissions were received at the office of Internal Revenue to-day; Michael J. Crotty, Second District Ohio, at Cincinnati; Henry F. Allen, Harrison O'Connor and Charles T. Crittenden, Thirtieth District New York, at Buffalo; Thomas Connell, Fourteenth District New York, at Albany; John G. Wasson, Ninth District New York, at New York City, and Wm. Smith, Eighth District New York, at New York City.

The commissions for nine gungers were also received to-day, among them one for George M. Wherrett, 1st District Illinois, at Chicago, who at present is clerk in the Internal Revenue office.

GOVERNMENT SUIT IN FRANCE.

A paragraph is going the rounds of the papers relative to the suit of this Government in the French Courts to recover the funds paid to the Ocean Ship Building Company, at Bordeaux, by the rebel government for ships, is calculated to mislead, as it states that the suit has been decided against us. The fact is that the case has been appealed to the higher courts, and the decision referred to was rendered by the court having original jurisdiction. M. Berrier represents the United States in the suit, and has officially informed the State Department of the appeal.

THE INDIAN DISTURBANCES.

Dispatches received at the War Department from Lieutenant General Sherman, dated at Fort Leavenworth, indicate that the troubles on Saline and Solomon rivers are acts of violence against settlers by the Dog Soldiers and Cheyennes. The cause of the trouble is supposed to have grown out of the recent fight between the Cheyennes and Pawnees. The former getting the worst of it, are supposed to have attacked all settlers for revenge. General Sheridan had sent plenty of troops and gone in person to the place of hostilities.

ANOTHER SECTION COMPLETED.

Secretary Browning has received an affidavit from the President of the Union Pacific Railroad announcing an additional section of twenty miles of the road, extending to the seven hundred and sixtieth mile post from Omaha, has been completed. The Government Commissioners have been instructed by telegraph to make an examination of the section.

POSTAL CONTRACTS.

Information has been received at the Postoffice Department warranting the belief that the British Postoffice Department will assent to the proposed modification in the new postal contracts between the two countries, by which, among other things, the postage on small pamphlets will be reduced. Necessary negotiations are now pending between the United States and France for a more liberal exchange of mail.

ON TRIAL.

The trial of the colored Zouaves who fired into a crowd of citizens last week was commenced in Georgetown yesterday. Considerable evidence was taken, a policeman testifying that he saw the occurrence, but was too much afraid of his life to interfere.

TOBACCO MANUFACTURERS' MEETING.

A meeting of tobacco manufacturers was held to-day, at which a communication was received from Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue Harlan, stating that the ten per cent. discount on other stamps could not be allowed on tobacco stamps. Special Inspector Harvey was present, and stated that nearly all the manufacturers in New York City were complying with the law. Resolutions were adopted that no tobacco can be inspected except for the manufacture of the same: that the practice of many dealers and peddlers in breaking original packages and selling to retail dealers is clearly opposed to both the letter and spirit of the law; and that the practice of inspection is not authorized by the present law and should not be allowed.

SOUTH AMERICA.

LONDON, August 19.—Advices from Rio Janeiro, dated July 31st, says the following news has been received from the seat of war on the Parana: The allied troops to the number of ten thousand attacked the Fortress of Humaita on the 16th of July, and were repulsed with a loss, it is said, of three thousand men. The allies have also been defeated in an attack on the Gran Chaco.

RIO JANEIRO, July 31, via LONDON, Aug. 20.—The attack on the Paraguayan fortress of Humaita took place on the 16th of July. On the morning of that day the combined Brazilian and Argentine forces, under the command of Marquis de Caxais, advanced to the assault in three columns, amounting in the aggregate to ten thousand men. At the same time a heavy fire was opened upon the fortifications from the fleet of iron-clads and land batteries. After desperate and prolonged fighting at the foot of the entrenchments, the allied columns retired without effecting a lodgment within the enemy's works. The loss of the allies is reported to be three thousand killed and wounded. Nothing is known of the losses of the Paraguayans, but as they fought most of the time under cover of their entrenchments, it is supposed the number of their killed and wounded will fall far behind that of the allies. The allied force in Gran Chaco also advanced with the object of cutting off the communication of Lopez in the forest. They found them defended by a large body of Paraguyans, protected by breastworks. After an obstinate engagement the allies withdrew to their former position. The casualties in this battle are not stated. The hopes of the war party in Brazil rested upon the success of this enterprise and its failure will give great impetus to the peace movement.

CALIFORNIA.

Singular Tidal Phenomena—French Consul General — Congressional Nomination.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, August 19.—The steamer Constitution, from Panama, arrived to-night.

On August 15th a singular tidal phenomena occurred at San Pedro, Southern California. A series of waves commenced flowing upon the coast, causing the tide to rise three or four feet above the ordinary high water, followed by a falling of the tide the same distance below low water mark. The rise and fall occurred regularly every half hour for several hours, creating considerable alarm among the inhabitants thereabouts. The incident is attributed to some marine disturbance, causing the bottom of the sea to rise and fall, thus impelling the waves towards the coast.

Information has been received that Monsier Crozetto, French Consul at this point, has been appointed Consul General of France for the Pacific coast, which title he will assume on his return from Europe.

The steamer Constitution, which ran on the rocks near Plummer's Pass about two weeks since, got off and has arrived at Victoria.

The Democratic Convention of the Third District to-day nominated Joseph H. Coffroth for Congress.

The Indians are now retreating towards the Arkansas with the military volunteers in hot pursuit. Several children stolen by the Indians were abandoned and found in the woods. Six women have been carried away captives. With the extensive preparations now organized against the Indians, it is thought there will be no more trouble in Kansas. PHILADELPHIA.

The Allentown Iron Works Defalcation.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, August 20.—The Bulletin says the present defalcation, though a heavy one, is divided among parties none of whom can suffer more than temporary inconvenience from their losses. The capital of the Allentown Rolling Mill Company is $500,000, besides which there had been accumulated considerable surplus, which will prevent any very serious impression being made on the capital of the Company. It is satisfactory to the friends of Mr. Cabot to know that bad as the case is, he does not appear to have used his official position as President of the Rolling Mill Company for the purpose of raising money, his speculative operations being carried on by funds in the hands of Cabot & Co., as brokers. On the day of his disappearance he negotiated some securities of the Company, but deposited the proceeds, amounting to $5,000, in the bank to the credit of the Company.

LETTERS FROM EUROPE---NO. 5.

BY JOSEPH KING.

AUGUST, 1868.

On Saturday morning, July 18th, our little party of travellers reached Glasgow, the largest city in Scotland, and the second in size and commercial importance in Great Britain. It is situated on both sides of the Clyde, so far-famed for its iron ship building, and contains a population of between four and five hundred thousand. James Watt, the discoverer of the power of steam, and who first applied it to steamboat navigation, was born here. He was connected for a long time with the University of Edinburgh, and in that city a fine statue of him stands in front of the "Watt Institution for the Promotion of the Arts and Sciences." The first steamboat ever built was launched on the Clyde in 1812. For some miles from Glasgow, up the river, both banks are lined with steamships in all stages of progress in being built. The sounding of hammers is incessant. The streets of Glasgow are usually straight, mostly running due east and west, due north and south, and it is not difficult for the stranger to find his way, without assistance, from one part of the city to another. The principal streets are wide, quite clean and well paved. There are no brick or wooden houses, all are stone, and the stone used in both building and paving is granite of a dark color, very solid, and, while it makes a very firm and durable pavement, it must be very hard on the limbs of the horses that constantly travel over it. The streets are kept in excellent repair; uneven places are speedily smoothed. By the way, let me say that in every city in which I have been on this side of the Atlantic, the streets are kept in better repair and are sought to be made smoother than in Pittsburgh. Our Street Commissioners have not much to be proud of. It is to be hoped that the "Nicolson pavement" will soon be down on all our principal thoroughfares.

The day on which we arrived in Glasgow was a holiday, the last day of the week of the Fair, and by city enactment that day is a holiday. The shops and stores were, consequently, closed; thousands were out rusticating during the day, and the streets were not thronged till towards evening. Glasgow is the stronghold of Presbyterianism in Scotland. All Scotland is strongly Presbyterian, but Glasgow is peculiarly so. On looking into the Directory to note the number and different places of worship, I observed the Established Church has 65 congregations, the free Church 66, and the United Presbyterians 78, making over 200 congregations of Presbyterians in the one city. The United Presbyterians in Scotland do not hold exactly the same views as respects Psalmody that the people of the same name in our country hold. In Scotland they do not confine themselves to David's psalms, but the Free Church rarely sing anything else. John Knox, the man who, under God, was the chief instrument of the Reformation of Scotland, though dead still lives. His life was a stormy one. He fought a great battle. He bearded the lion in his own den. He regenerated Scotland and lifted a nation out of Popery. It was of him, when he died, that the Regent said: "Here he lieth who never feared the face of man." The other day I was at St. Andrews, in Fifeshire, where he was Professor, and where he preached. I stood in the old oak pulpit in which he preached many of his fiery sermons, and saw the church in which he delivered that famous sermon which led to the destruction of the St. Andrews Cathedral, an immense structure over 300 feet in length and the ruins of which, at this hour, are very grand and magnificent. (Mr. Boyd, author of "Recreations of a country Parson, &c.," now preaches under the same roof.)

The people of Glasgow have shown their appreciation of Knox's labors by erecting to his name and memory the highest monument that stands in their Necropolis—the city of the dead. Glasgow is the seat of a renowned University. It was founded about six hundred years since, and many eminent men have taught within its walls, and many who afterwards became eminent, and acquired a world wide notoriety, studied within its walls. The late Alexander Campbell was a student at the Glasgow University, and within a stone's throw of the rear of the University buildings stands the prison in which he was so unjustly confined in 1847, when visiting the scene of his early studies.

Railroad companies in Great Britain, as well as in our country, do what they please. The site of the present University buildings in Glasgow has been sold to a railroad company, and a grand depot is to occupy its place. New buildings for the University are being erected in the suburbs of the city. Among the objects to be seen in Glasgow by the visitor none is more interesting than the Cathedral. It was founded in the 12th century, is now Crown property, and the established church occupies it as a place of worship. It has been repaired and renovated, and is in a good state of preservation. The two most remarkable things about it are its crypts (burial places) and its painted window glass. Each window, or part of a window, is the gift of one or more persons, and the donors' names are inscribed on it. The designs are all by the most eminent of the European artists, and so far as I have seen, is not equalled elsewhere in Great Britain, perhaps not in the world. I have now seen several of the most magnificent churches in Paris, Notre Dame and others, but as respects their painted windows, in my judgment, they are all inferior to the Cathedral Church in Glasgow. The paintings in the nave represent scenes in the Old Testament, while those of the choir (audience room) and lady chapel represent scenes in the New Testament. So delighted was I with these windows that one view of them was not sufficient; I had to return and take the second; I could conceive of nothing so beautiful. The Cathedral windows are the pride of Glasgow people.

Taking the cars or the train as the people of Great Britain universally say, in one hour we were at the foot of Loch Lomond. In a few minutes our boat was under way, and we were sailing north over the beautiful waters of the immortal Loch Lomond. It is studded here and there with green islands, lovely hills rise from each side, and in the distance on a clear day, or when there is no mist to intercept the view. Ben Lomond, over 3 000 feet high, lifts up his proud form, and recalls his majesty and grandeur, to the eye of its beholder. In two hours, our boat drew up to the pier at Inversnaid, and we left her to ride in a coach five miles across the Rob Rob country to Loch Katrine. The mountian and lake scenery at Inversnaid was so enchanting that we could not leave it at once, and we tarried till the time for the next conveyance. Rob Roy's cave is one mile farther up the lake from Inversnaid on its right hand side, and we were ever inclined to pay it a visit, to clamber over the rocks he clambered over, and sit on the huge stones he sat on. We secured a row boat, and in a few minutes we were at the cave. We climbed up the rocks, and then over the rocks, and then slid down the rocks, and were soon below! at the cave's mouth. But that did not satisfy us. We wanted to go to the bottom, and down the ladder we went. We looked about, sat down on the rocks, picked up some bits of rock, and thought of the past, and of the outlaw, and the freebooter who was wont to secrete himself in that cave. With considerable effort, after coming out, we reached points higher up on the mountain side, from which we obtained fine views of the lake and surrounding scenery. Here I quote what I wrote in my memorandum book while sitting on a large rock above the cave. "At a quarter past twelve o'clock on the 20th of July, we sat on the top of a huge rock 50 feet and more above Rob Roy's Cave. We clambered here, picking our way among piles of rocks. From this point the prospect spread out before us is delightful. The placid lake below, 600 feet deep, a neat cottage with small but finely cultivated grounds surrounding it on the opposite shore, the lofty mountains in the distance, a silvery cascade across the lake on our right, masses of huge, bold rocks rising two or three hundred feet above our heads—all awaken admiration, inspire emotion, and seem to say, Nature has here done her utmost."

The mountain scenery of Lock Lomond is not so bold, perhaps not so grand as that at the Lakes of Killarney, but it is more picturesque, more beautiful and lovely. In the afternoon of the same day we rode in a "coach and four" over a mountainous but most picturesque and romantic country to Lock Katrine, the most beautiful of all the Scottish Lakes. Here I must lay down my pen for the present.

POLITICAL ITEMS.

THE London Spectator says: "Of all the mad freaks a great party ever committed, the platform of the Democrats, unless, indeed, they mean war, seems to us the least sane."

GOVERNOR SEYMOUR says he has been "caught up by the whirling tide." That was what ailed Early when Sheridan got after him and sent him "whirling through Winchester."

A PAMPHLET copy of the proceedings of the Tammany Hall Convention, printed for circulation in the South, bears on its cover, in large type. "Stand by your friends who have stood by you."

A DEMOCRATIC paper in Illinois urges the election of General Singleton to Congress from the Fourth Illinois District on the ground that he had the confidence of Jefferson Davis during the rebellion?

"OUR soldiers run well this year," was the sneering remark made by Seymour, after a series of reverses in 1862. On which the Newburg Journal comments: "They will 'run' well this year, too, and are already after his nimble excellency 'with a sharp stick."

IT will be recollected that Vallandigham was refused admission into the Philadelphia "Bread and But er" Convention two years ago, on account of his bad political record. But in the Seymour and Blair Convention he was an honored leader. Yet in his recent speech at Fort Wayne he said: Every opinion ever uttered by me—every sentiment expressed by me from April, 1861, to the close of the civil war, commands my assent and prevails to-day."

WASHINGTON, PA.

Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.

WASHINGTON, PA., August 18, 1868.

The campaign is opened. Evening before last the first gun was fired. Our town was all excitement. Having been announced that a Grant and Colfax ratification meeting would be held, the people came in from the regions around about and joined enthusiastically in the proceedings of the evening. A torch-light procession was had, it was composed of Grant and Colfax Guards in splendid uniform. They presented a very fine appearance, and drew forth great applause from the multitudes in the streets along which they marched. They halted in front of the Court House where a large concourse of people assembled to hear adderesses by R. B. Carnahan, Esq., of your city, Capt. J. B. Donley, Republican candidate for Congress in this District, and Hon. Geo. V. Lawrence, our present member of Congress.

These gentlemen ably discussed the issues of the day, after which we had a magnificent display of fireworks, engineered by our townsman D. Wilson, Esq.

The meeting was all its friends could desire—large, orderly, and enthusiastic. Judging from the character of this meeting, and other indications, our county will give a good account of herself this fall.

Frequency of Divorces in New England.

In the State of Vermont, for six years after 1860, there was on an average, one divorce annually to every twenty-one and a half marriages. In Massachusetts, during four years of the same period, one divorce to about forty-four and a half (44.4) marriages was the ratio. In Ohio it was one divorce to twenty-five marriages. In Prussia—among the Protestant population—the ratio of divorces in 1855 to the marriages of that year was as one to nineteen. At the foot of this bad-looking list, Connecticut must be placed; there, in the period between 1860 and 1867, the ratio was as one to eleven and four-tenths. Deduct from the whole number of marriages of persons of foreign birth 800 as being marriages of Catholics, who rarely or never petition for a divorce, and this ratio becomes still more unsatisfactory; we have one divorce to eight and a half marriages. Tried by other measures, the result is the same; Connecticut makes a worse show than any other State of the Union or of Christendom—unless we are to except Indiana, which seems to be afraid to collect the statistics of the subject. In that other Connecticut, the Western Resrve of Ohio, the case is about as bad; the counties constituting the district, so-called, furnish much more than their due proportion of the divorced, while the southern counties in which, by the way, Catholics abound, fall below the average in the number of petitions. In the Judicial District of Berlin in 1838-40 there were fifty-seven divorces to every 100,000 inhabitants; in that of Frankfort there were thirty; in that of Magdeburg there were thirty-five; in Rhenish Prussia, under the less lax Code Napoleon, there were but four divorces to each 100,000 people. Now in Vermont, out of the same number of inhabitants (100,000) there are annually thirty-three divorces; in Massachusetts—we speak of the present decade—there are 20 4-10; in Ohio there are about 23 3-10, and in Connecticut, even if we do not count out the Catholic population, every hundred thousand of the people have amongst them yearly eighty newly divorced couples! There can be no doubt—the statistics, though they may prove a good deal less than Catholic controvertists would infer from them, conclusively prove it—that society in Connecticut is in a dangerously corrupt condition; and these figures ought to make Connecticut legislators look to their divorce laws and study the history of the effect which such relaxation of the law has had on the permanance of Connecticut marriages. The "omnibus clause" of the present law—the clause that relates to incompatibility of temper, and seems to suppose that one human being can make another perennially happy - could never have good results in so hasty and ill-tempered a world as this one, even if everybody were perfectly honest; to the dishonest it affords every facility for unclean living.—The Nation.

A Fearful Incident.

A letter from Fort Larned to the Leavenworth Times tells the following: A most fearful and appalling circumstance transpired at the fort last evening. While a party of ladies and gentlemen were sitting in front of the beautiful quarters of Col. Ed. Wyncoop, Indian Superintendent or Agent of several warlike tribes, the entire party commenced a beautiful song. While the melody was ringing in the night air, a monstrous, shaggy and rabid wolf dashed madly into the midst of the party, first attacking Lieutenant Thompson, Third United States Infantry, tearing and lacerating his limbs in a most frightful manner. The monster broke away, pursued by Col. Wynkoop and his chief scout; Jas. Morrison, who had lost no time in procuring proper arms. Before either of these fearless gentlemen, however, could overtake him, the wolf had attacked the sentry at the guard-house, whom he also bit savagely, the sentinel having fired, but, most unfortunately, missed his aim. From the guard-house the wolf next dashed over to the hospital, and made an assault upon one of the men there stationed, almost tearing his right arm from his body, after first taking off a finger entire. He then attacked and mutilated a colored soldier of the Tenth Cavalry, and subsequently entered the quarters of the laundress, while she was in bed, but, owing to the thickness of the bed-clothes, fortunately failed to inflict any serious injury on the poor woman. The maddened creature next caught sight of the sentinel at the haystacks, who, almost providentially shot him dead. Beside Lieut. Thompson, there are three persons badly bitten and mutilated by this monster.

THE SINGULAR SPECTACLE is presented in Austria of an Empire, ruled by a devoted son of the Church, member of a traditionally Catholic family, with a people thoroughly and strongly attached to the Romish faith, suffering under the denunciation of the Holy Father. Baron Beust, the Prime Minister, is a Protestant, but that fact does not account for the boldness with which the excessive privileges of the Church have been cut off, or the determination with which the reforms are sustained. It is Austria, lifted from a despotism to a constitutional monarchy, that has done this, and it is the new strength of the nation that sustains Beust in his position. His reply to the Papal allocution is not much as an argument, a decided disagreement as to the premises preventing the controversy from taking that form. He simply protests against an invidious distinction against Austria, while France, and notably Italy, are living under laws "quite as abominable." But the gist of his reply is contained in the short sentence, "We shall none the less persevere in the way we have begun." This is certainly outspoken and plain enough to settle the matter; and without doubt the Papal authorities will easily accommodate themselves to the fact, especially since none of their material rights are interfered with.

HOW TO TELL DISEASED MEAT.—Healthy meat is firm and elastic to the touch, and hardly moistens the fingers. Diseased meat is soft and wet, and scrum often runs from it. Good meat has but little odor, and that by no means disagreeable. Diseased meat has a faint and cadaverous smell. This is best observed by cutting it and smelling the knife, or pouring a little warm water over it when chopped. It loses, also, ten per cent. more weight in cooking than when healthy. Care should be taken to have meat most thoroughly cooked, if consumers wish to avoid all possibility of animalculæ.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

The general markets are in a very complicated and unsettled condition, which is owing mainly to the uncertainty in regard to values, and no improvement can resonably be expected in business until there is some uniformity in prices. We can report a fair local demand for most of the leading commodities, but there is an almost entire absence of anything like a speculative feeling, and buyers generally are restricting their purchases as much as possible, being apprehensive, that it is not very safe to keep big stocks.

BUTTER—We can report a good demand and regular sales of prime to choice at 33 to 35c—one firm quoted at 36. (We can see no cause for butter being sold at 60 cents in market.)

EGGS—Continue exceedingly dull, and we can report a still further decline, sales having been made to-day at 14 cts for fresh packed.

CHEESE—Is quiet though firm at the recent advance—14 to 15 for Western Reserve and Hamburg; 16 to 17 for Factory and 19 to 20 for Sweitzer.

GREEN APPLES—Are coming in very freely and the market is dull—completely glutted; we quote nominally at $2 to $3,50 to $4, as to quality.

POTATOES—Quiet but steady at $3 to $3,50 per bbl, as to quality; receipts light.

GRAIN—Wheat is steady, with a supply equal to the demand, and prices are unchanged; the mills continue to pay $2,10 to $2,15 for Red, and $2,15 to $2,20 for White: sale of 2 cars prime Red, to dealers, to be shipped out of this market, at $2,17, which is two cents per bushel more than any of the mills would pay. Ear Corn is scarce and in demand; sale of 200 bushs at $1,14, and 1 car do at $1,16; Shelled may be quoted at $1,06 to $1,12 for mixed to prime Yellow. New Oats are fluctuating between 60 to 65c—some dealers are not inclined to pay above 55c, while others allege that they will take all they can get at 60 cents. Rye—new crop, is in demand at $1,35, and but little arriving, as yet. Prime No. 1 Spring Barley is quoted at $1,70 to $1,75.

MILL FEED—Is in steady demand but unchanged. The mills still quote: Bran, $1,10; Screenings, $1; Shipstuffs, $1,30, and Middlings, $2,20.

HAY—Is still quoted at $20 to $20 from country wagons as to quality.

LARD OIL—Is quoted at an advance; $1,20 for No. 2, and $1,50 for No. 1.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in demand at $2,25, and but little offering, as yet. No movement in Clover or Timothy Seeds.

PEACHES—Are coming in pretty freely, and prices are barely maintained at $3,50 to $4 per box, for good to prime.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is firm, with a good jobbing demand at 14c for Shoulders; 16¼ to 16¾c for Ribbed, and 18½ to 18¾c for Clear Sides, and 22 to 22½c for Sugar Cured Hams. Prime kettle rendered Lard, 19½ to 19¾c. Dried Beef, 21 to 21½c. Mess Pork, $30 to $30,50.

SALT—Is quiet and unchanged at $1,75 to $1,80 to the trade, and $2 in a retail way.

FLOUR—The Flour market is firmer, and the demand seems to have improved somewhat. One firm reports having sold 300 bbls of choice Winter Wheat, to go out of this market, at $11. Choice old Spring Wheat brands are still held firmly at $10,75 to $11, while good new Spring Wheat can be sold at $10 to $10,25. The mills have advanced prices 30c per bbl. We quote as follows: Double Extra, wholesale in barrels, $11,50, and retail, $11,80; wholesale in sacks by the barrel, $11, and retail per sack, $2,95; Extra Family Flour in barrels, $10,80, and retail, $11,30; wholesale in sacks by the barrel, $10,50, and retail, $2,80 per sack.

RIVER NEWS.

If yesterday can be taken as an index, another wet spell has set in; we had several heavy showers of rain early in the morning, and considerable rain fell during the day, and the indications in the evening were favorable for more during the night. Of course, these rains have not, as yet, had any effect on the river, but in case they should conttnue for a few days, a rise would doubtless be the result,

As will be seen by reference to advertisement, the steamer Ida Rees No. 2 is offered for sale at public auction.

—The wrecking boat Underwriter has taken the boilers and machinery out of the Mattie Burns.

—The little steamer Dexter, lately sunk opposite Catlettsburg, has been raised, and is now on the docks at Middleport undergoing repairs.

—The Emma No. 3 left Cincinnati for New Orleans on Tuesday. She was drawing 4 feet, and her barge 2 feet, and had engagements below, including 60 or 70 barrels whisky at Aurora, and all the hay she could take, and a lot of freight from Madison. She had about 40 passengers. Pilots, Dan. Weaver and Jos. McCammott.

—We find the following in the Louisville Courier of yesterday: An old lady on a steamboat observed two men pumping up water to wash the deck, and the Captain being near by, she accosted him as follows: "Well, Captain, got a well aboard, eh?" "Yes ma'am; always carry one," said the polite Captain. "Well, that's clever. I always disliked this nasty river water, especially in dog days."

—We learn from the Omaha Herald, of the 13th, that a pleasant surprise overtook Captain Bartell, clerk Millenberger, and Mr. Rea, mate of the Mountaineer. They were taking a walk through the town, and looking at the sights, when they were met by a German citizen, who supposed they were Mayor Rice and two others of the Chicago delegation of visitors. The jolly boatmen were carried to the house of the citizen, and treated with great consideration, and to the best in the house.

—A St. Louis dispatch, under date of Tuesday, says: River still falling, with 7½ feet water to Cairo, and 3½ to Keokuk. Cloudy and damp. Heavy rains fell between midnight and daylight this morning. Business good. Tunnage on the Upper Mississippi and Missouri inadequate for the business offering. All the warehouses are reported full of freight, and a large amount of grain is lying on the river bank awaiting shipment. The Shark, enroute from New Orleans, has 300 pieces lignum vitae wood for Cincinnati.

—We clip the following from an Evansville paper: The Quickstep did not get up till 11 o'clock, having been delayed by a slight accident. She towed a barge to Henderson, and landed it below the Mollie Norton: while drawing up to the wharfboat, and running very slow, she picked up a snag which rosa just aft of the larboard wheel, and tore its way up through the splash room, the cabin guard, and the hurricane roof, tearing out the hog chain braces aft of the wheel, but fortunately was moving so slowly that the wheel beam stood the shock, and stopped the boat. Had the boat been under full headway, the damage might have been very great, and might have involved human life, as persons were on guard at the time, who barely escaped injury. She will be all right today, and will leave promptly on time.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 144.

A COUNTY TANNER'S CLUB has just been organized with active and competent officers. This organization will do much good in the campaign, and every spirited young Republican should at once enroll his name.

IMPORTANT Republican meetings are being arranged for in all parts of the county. Let no voter within three miles of the place for holding them fail to be in attendance to hear the issues of the day discussed from the standpoint of truth.

SEVERAL DAYS have elapsed since the nomination of the Republican candidates for municipal offices, and we are pleased to observe that the utmost harmony prevails in the party, and that undivided support will be awarded those put forward. All of the defeated candidates before the primary elections have entered the field as earnest workers to secure the election of their more successful rivals. Nothing can intervene between this and October to prevent the election of a full board of Republican municipal officers. The most ardent Democrats concede this fact.

TELEGRAMS from Washington deny that our government contemplates a Protectorate over any of the Mexican States. That will do for the marines. The untimely exposure of the scheme may defer its fulfilment, the parties hesitating to incur the justly resulting odium, until their arrangements have been consummated, but there is little or no doubt that the mission of Gen. ROSECRANS will be especially but cautiously directed to that end. The bargain with JUAREZ has been made and the American parties to that bargain, having a "good thing" of it, will use their official station to carry it out, all these denials to the contrary notwithstanding.

SOME of our exchanges are commenting on the fast rate of travel made during a recent excursion of railroad officers. The best time made on the excursion was 48 miles per hour. That was nothing in comparison to the time at which the Rocky Mountain editorial excursionists were brought to Omaha from the end of the Union Pacific road. They made nearly an hundred miles right straight along at the rate of 56½ miles an hour, and averaged the whole 710 miles at the rate of 34½ miles an hour, including long stoppages. In doing this the engineer broke down three engines, but he proved that he could make as good time on a new road as others can on old ones.

"THE GAZETTE does not answer the most material question we asked it, namely: 'Was not the country always prosperous whilst ruled by the Democratic party?' The omission may have been an oversight. We call the attention of our respected cotemporary to it again, and shall duly appreciate a candid answer." Post.

We will start by asking our neighbor a question of like character with the one it propounds to us. Why are all BLACK birds WHITE? None of your slimy sinuosities, but a square and plump reply.

Almost every period of special stagnation in business which has fallen upon this country has occurred under a Democratic administration. Take an instance or two of comparatively recent date. In 1837, the worst revulsion happened that has befallen this nation. A large proportion of the men engaged actively in commercial, manufacturing and financial pursuits, became involved in bankruptcy. The distress ran through all ranks of society. Popular opinion attributed the disaster largely to the Democratic policy. It was this general conviction, more than anything else, that led to the election of General HARRISON to the Presidency in 1840. In 1857, there was another stupendous revulsion, which reduced tens of thousands of business men to poverty, and threw hundreds of thousands of mechanics out of employment. The suffering which resulted was exceedingly sharp and was almost universal. It contributed essentially to the banishment of the Democrats from power in 1860.

This country is young and vigorous. Like a young man of excellent constitution, it has stood, and can yet stand, a good deal of harsh usage, without showing signs of decrepitude and decay. This is why it has got along as well as it has under Democratic misrule, stupidity and ignorance. Roystering young fellows frequently boast that they have indulged in all manner of dissipation with impunity; and infer from this fact that dissoluteness is not hurtful, but, on the whole, beneficent. In the same way, the country has contrived to get on under heavy doses of Democratic policy; but that is due, not to the policy, but to the inherent vitality of the people which has opposed comparatively successful resistance to mistaken, unwise and damaging Democratic doctrines and practice.

MR GROW denies that any person lost a dollar by the Reno Oil and Land Company, of which he was President. We cannot say, of our own knowledge, whether this is true or not. Reports in the oil region, at the time of its collapse, were very different. It was one of Mr. Culver's schemes which robbed somebody of millions. It was unfortunate for Mr. Grow that he was connected in this way with a reckless operator who spread ruin and distress through an extensive district of the State. Mr. Grow lent his name and services to one of his schemes. As that of Speaker of the National House of Representatives, the name was valuable in inspiring confidence in Mr. Culver and inducing the unsuspecting to invest in his confidence projects. If Mr. Grow is an honest business man, this association is especially damaging; and if he is upright as a politician, his belonging to a class of apostates from the Democracy, embracing the worst and most corrupt traffickers that ever plundered the public calamities, is also especially damaging. The old rule of judging men by the company they keep, covers Mr. Grow with just suspicion, and ranks him with mercenary tricksters who pillage, and bribe, and cheat, and oppress in the name of patriotism."—Post.

This is every word our neighbor says in rejoinder to Mr. Grow's card. We feel constrained to notice a few points.

1. The Post virtually admits that it made most serious charges against Mr. GROW without having knowledge of their truth. The laws justly hold that a man who shoots into a crowd of persons, and kills one or more of them, is guilty of murder, though he entertained no special malice towards any one of them, but was simply reckless. Upon analagous principles, the man or journal, that discharges a cloud of injurious accusations upon the character of an individual, without knowing them to be true, and being prepared to substantiate them, is a wanton slanderer.

At the bar of Ethics---that is, in the purview of the Ten Commandments---a liar or slanderer is as bad as a thief or a swindler. At the bar of Honor---that is, in the purview of honesty and manliness, a breach of veracity is viler than an offense against honesty; that is, men tolerate a share, who execrate an untruth.

2. The Post virtually declares that because a man fails in businesss, he is necessarily a scoundrel. We should much sooner affirm that he who could seriously make such a declaration is a knave and cheat. Political rancor and journalistic heat are miserable excuses for a flagrant violation of the proprieties of social and public life.

3. The Post goes farther, and maintains that though Mr. GROW did not fail, the circumstance of his connection with a man who did, is sufficient to justify the worst aspersions of his reputation. It would be scarcely uncharitable to say that he who will attempt to rob a man of his character on such a pretext, will pick a pocket if an opportunity offers.

—After the collapse of the Reno Oil and Land Company Mr. GROW on several occasions conversed with us about the matter, Though he had invested most of his moderate competence in the enterprise, he expressed the utmost solicitude to save harmless all the individuals whom he had ever so remotely induced to engage in it, even if he saved nothing for himself. To this end he devoted many months of the severest application. We saw him a few days after his task was accomplished! and shall never forget his delight that all the debts of the concern were paid, and that each of the stockholders was certain to get back the money he had put in. His satisfaction was not that he had saved his own cash, but that he had rescued from loss all who had confided in him.

If we have spoken now plainly of this matter, it is because we could not remain silent while an old and honored friend was ruthlessly stabbed in his reputation.

REBELLION AND DEMOCRACY IDENTICAL.

At the ratification meeting of the Democracy in Savannah, Hon. HENRY B. JACKSON, amongst others, was called upon and addressed the meeting. In the course of his remarks he said:

"I come to give my heart and voice for what they are worth to the American Democracy. Against those principles I have never rebelled. They were our principles in 1850, in 1860, in 1861, 1862, 1863, 1864, and 1865. In vindication of them the blood of our people flowed freely throughout the land. We have never, never, never abandoned them."

Here is a man who rebelled against the country, did all in his power to break up the Union and destroy the Constitution, played the part of a traitor during four terrible years of carnage, but who "never, never, never abandoned" the principles of the Democratic party—never rebelled against them. Does he tell the truth? To be sure he does. Every intelligent man who is not blinded by chronic party prejudices knows that what Mr. JACKSON said at that meeting is true, every word of it. The rebels were Democrats—that is, they were members of the party which called itself by that name before secession; they helped to elect Mr. BUCHANAN; under his wing they seceded and prepared war against the government, and still they were Democrats; as Democrats they fired upon Sumter, and this brought on the war; and as such they fought. Being conquered, and their Confederacy blotted out of existence, they now come back as politicians, and proclaim that in all their atrocious doings they have never swerved from the principles of the Democratic party—"never, never, never abandoned them."

Well, if the rebels were all the time, and are yet, Democrats, then it follows Democracy and rebellion are one. So closely identified are they, that the two wings—the Democrats who fought and the Democrats who sympathized—cannot be separated. They were one party before the war, one during the war, and are one yet. Both are in the same boat, and must sink or swim together. The rebellion made no breach in that party; therefore it follows that armed rebellion was no offence to it—that treason is one of its principles—and that the horrible atrocities perpetrated at the Libby, at Belle Isle, at Salisbury, at Andersonville, at Fort Pillow, and many other places, were quite in accord with the principles which this Mr. JACKSON, of Georgia, so vauntingly assures us he and his fellow rebels "never, never, never abandoned."

Democrats of Pennsylvania, are these things so? Did Mr. JACKSON speak the truth? You know he did. Well, don't you see that you are in bad company. Can you not perceive that if you join yourself politically to the men who fought against the Government, who still glory in having done so, and boldly declare that in so doing they were but maintaining the principles of the Democratic party, you cannot possibly avoid sharing in their infamy and partaking of their guilt. You may really be as loyal as we claim to be; but if so, you have a strange way of setting forth your principles—loyal, and yet consorting with men who boast of their exploits as traitors! You may believe it, but nobody else will.

There may be a few men in the South who fought against the Government and who now support the Republican cause; but to a man they express regret for what they did. On the Democratic side, however, they glory in the part they bore in that treasonable effort to overturn the government, and claim that it was in accordance with the principles of the party to do so. Therein lies the difference between the two parties. If you think that it was so; if on this point you are at agreement with Mr. JACKSON, then by all means vote with him for SEYMOUR and BLAIR. He knows what he is doing; and you ought to know what you are doing. If his principles and yours coincide, if you are rebels, as he is, then in the name of all that is evil and infamous, go with him. Being enemies of the country, you cannot be friendly to the principles of the Republican party. The Democratic party as it is now led suits you exactly.

VALLANDIGHAM.

In the nomination of Mr. VALLANDIGHAM for Congress in the Dayton (O.) district, the Democracy have given a still sharper point to the issue which has divided all the loyal supporters of the Union from the advocates of the right of secession and the sympathizers with sectional rebellion for eight years past. As the champion of the extreme Southern rebel doctrine, which he subsequently amended by his scheme for the establishment of an independent Northwestern Confederacy, Mr. VALLANDIGHAM became so conspicuously obnoxious to the patriotic sentiment of the country as to justify his forcible expulsion, during the war, into the military lines of his rebel friends. But, whether in the midst of the rebel armies, in Canada, or again at home after the close of the war, he remained the real representative of extreme Democratic opinions, and as such, triumphing over the politic timidity of the party, which strove for the two years succeeding to exclude him from prominence in leadership, he reappeared at the New York Convention, more powerful in influence than ever, the architect of its platform and the disposer of its nominations. It was he, and such as he, who procured that bold official avowal of the revolutionary designs of the Democracy, with the candidates expressly pledged to sustain these designs, if elected.

Returning home, he became a candidate for Congress and has, very naturally and logically, received the nomination. As a representative Democratic leader, he stands undoubtedly without a rival in his district or State. The extreme opinions he has advocated, the advanced positions to which he has since 1861 faithfully adhered, are precisely the orthodox opinions and positions of the entire party in 1868. He favors no compromise, seeks no cover, scorns all subterfuge, rejects all suggestions of mere policy, and interprets Democracy as it really is—radical, inflexible and thoroughly revolutionary, resolute and ready to sacrifice all, even the Union itself, to the triumph of a partizan faith. His political friends in his district have therefore indicated their own frankness and courage in selecting him—the avowed champion of disunion and war as the alternative of defeat, and the uncompromising advocate of the undoing of all the results of the late war, if successful—for their representative man. And he is more than that, for he represents the Democracy which BLAIR propounded, which the Convention approved, which HAMPTON, VANCE and TOOMBS have gratefully embraced, the Democracy which this year has pledged itself again to the nullification of laws by violence and, if need be, to a second armed rebellion.

This is the Democracy of Pennsylvania as of Ohio, of the North as of the South, and VALLANDIGHAM could, in the partizan point of view, as faithfully represent the party in Allegheny county as of his own Ohio District. His nomination correctly expounds the real Democratic sentiment, and will be recognized, beyond the limits of his Congressional District, as their personal embodiment of the same principles and designs for which he contributed to place BLAIR on the Presidential ticket.

The true issues of the canvass were pretty well understood already, but this nomination of a traitor so notorious as C. L. VALLANDIGHAM will define them still more palpably to the popular comprehension. The effect of this—which is already evidenced in his district, by the prompt movement of loyal Democrats for the nomination of another man not having his disloyal and offensive record,—will be to bring the honest Democratic masses everywhere to a clearer perception of the dangerous designs of their leaders. The popular heart is sound; it cannot long be misled by the deceptions of partizans; the people, whether Democrats or not, have too much of sincere and patriotic attachment to the Union and to good order and peace in the land, to sustain any treasonable purpose after it becomes clearly understood. This nomination will throw light upon many a Democratic voter's reflections, and will lead him to a right vote in November. We have reason, therefore, to be thankful for it, as for a still clearer interpretation of purposes which need only be thoroughly understood to receive the popular condemnation.

TOO LATE.

A great advance toward liberty is being effectuated in two continental countries of Europe. Austria abrogates the concordat and accepts the free institution of civil marriage, separation of the school from Church and full equality of confessions, while the Sultan of Turkey, Abedul-Agiz, another Saladin, declares that hereafter there will be no difference between Musselmen and Christians throughout his empire. Baron Beust, Prime Minister of Austria, in the Reichstrath, the other day, assured that the new laws are to be enforced in spite of the resistance of the Catholic clergy, and ABEDUL-AGIZ to a delegation of three christian patriarchs and one Jewish Rabbi, presenting an address of thanks for their respective contessions, pronounced emphatically his intention to abolish the old system of excluding Christians from the high offices in Turkey, and that he, in endeavoring to secure the happiness of his subjects, would not consider their faith or nationality. These declarations, coming from high authority, look very favorable to the development of general freedom in Europe. Holding them together with the concomitant assurances of friendship and conciliatory feelings by King WILLIAM and Emperor NAPOLEON, you would, perhaps, conclude that the age of eternal peace in that happy continent is not distant and that at an early day all Kings, Emperors, Dukes, &c., of Europe will descend from their thrones, embrace their subjects enthusiastically and give them peace, liberty and everlasting happiness. There are, however, some difficulties to be settled before that can be accomplished. For instance, the Sultan ABEDUL-AGIZ will meet some very serious obstacle in carrying out his certainly humane project. He is, no doubt, a docile scholar of his French instructor, LOUIS NAPOLEON, whose favorite idea was always to advance the progress of civilization among the Turks, not through any reformatory impulse, but because he considers civilization in that country the only shield against the incessant attacks of Russia, and the only guarantee of the duration of Moslemism as a bulwark against the threatening power of that Northern empire. The principle is good, but its realization comes soo late. For the Sultan, by all his elaborate speeches, will not make his fanatic subjects adherents of equal rights, and discontent is too widely spread among the Christian population of Turkey to make it probable that they will wait till time changes the mind of their Musselmanish masters.

The same, mutatis mutandis, is to be said of Austria. FRANCIS JOSEPH may give independence of administration to all contending nations of his Empire; he may grant all liberties imaginable to his subjects, abolish the concordat and establish freedom of schools, confessions and marriage. But it is too late. The jealousy of the different nations of the empire was too long allowed to instigate one against the other; the power of the clergy was too long considered the guard of the throne, that the wrath of the ecclesiarchs, provoked by the new laws, together with the national jealousies, which have at present freer play than ever, should not effectuate the final ruin of that country, the more so, as that powerful kingdom in the northern part of Germany, Prussia, is but waiting for the moment when it shall gather the best part of the fruits to fall from the withered imperial tree. Thus Austria, as well as Turkey, may be swept from the surface of the earth, in spite, or even on account, of their liberalism recently adopted. Liberalism, if it comes too late, is not a remedy of deficiencies, but merely a sign of the critical condition of the State, and, by affranchising the destructive elements accumulated by centuries of misgovernment, accelerates the downfall of governmentsi The late liberalism of LOUIS XVI could not prevent the rushing tide of revolution caused by the vices of his ancestors, nor will FRANCIS JOSEPH or ABDUL-AZIG in all likelihood be more successful.

STATE POLITICS.

Hon. J. M. BROOMALL declines the Republican re-nomination for Congress in the VIIth District. The Conferees have, therefore, made a unanimous selection of WASHINGTON TOWNSEND for the candidacy.

In the XIVth district, the Democracy have placed Gen. J. F. KNIPE in nomination for Congress.

The Democrats of the Northampton and Lehigh Judicial District are divided; those of Northampton wanting WALTER H. LOWRIE for Judge, while those of Lehigh insist on ROBERT E. WRIGHT, one of their own lawyers.

THE Erie Dispatch has got through its difficulties with its compositors, and came to us yesterday with a full explanation of the causes which led to the strike and attendant suspension of issue for one day. The compositors did not treat the proprietors in anything like a just or honorable manner. The newspaper owners of this city, however, find the system of paying every employé on Saturdays, in full, a very pleasant and satisfactory one on all sides.

POLITICAL ITEMS.

MAINE promises to give Grant and Colfax twenty thousand majority or more.

THE Raleigh (North Carolina) Standard guarantees 50,000 majority for Grant and Colfax in North Carolina.

THE Democratic roughs in New Orleans call themselves Blair-guards—a good name, but not spelled quite right.

A MINNEAPOLIS letter says: "The people of Minnesota are good for ten thousand majority for Grant and Colfax."

IT IS reported that Wade Hampton, Vance, Toombs and Cobb will be brought to New York to make Democratic speeches. The Republicans offer to pay half the expenses.

THE Boston Post says Mr. Seymour is the only man who grasps the whole situation. He is a pretty good grasper. Gen. Hancock says so, and adds the Choctaw word "Dammmm," EIGHTEEN members of the "White Boys in Blue," at Muncie, have become disgusted with that organizaiion and joined the "Fighting Boys in Blue." Four members of the same organization, at Anderson, pursued a similar course.

THE Western (North Carolina) Democrat refused to publish Frank Blair's Broadhead letter, on the ground that it could not approve of the propositions which it contained, and that it was mischievous in its tendency. It complains of the publication of the letter by its cotemporaries, and says they could not do anything better calculated to defeat the Democratic ticket in North Carolina.

GOVERNOR SEYMOUR not only never owned a government bond, but, acting as one of the Trustees of the Utica Savings Bank, which bank invested some of its funds in government bonds, Seymour, at a meeting of the Trustees, made a motion directing the Treasurer to sell all the government bonds as not being a safe investment. The motion did not carry, because the majority of the Trustees were sensible, loyal men.

THE Natchez (Miss.) Democrat thus blurts out its profanity: "If we have either to fight or to forget that there ever was a Runneynede, (!) or a Sydney, or a Jeanne d'Arc, or a Madame Roland, for God's sake, for the country's sake, and to show that Christ did not die in vain for the human race, let us prepare for it. Even if we must die, let us die game! Thousands of our young men are too proud to work. Let them not be too proud to die, if need be, for their country."

VALLANDIGHAM, who, along with Hampton, Forrest, et omne, now runs the Democratic machine, made a speech in Congress, on the 6th of July, 1861, just before the battle of Bull Run, in which he uttered the following sentiment:

"Then, Sir, I am not a Southern man either—although in this most unholy and unconstitutional crusade against the South, in the midst of the insurrection and murder to which she has been subject, and with which she is still threatened—with the torch of the incendiary and the dagger of the assassin suspended over her—my most cordial sympathies are wholly with her."

HON. DAVID KILGORE, of Muncie, Ind., Hon. M. L. Bundy, of New Castle, the Johnson candidate for Congress in the old Fifth District two years ago, Judge Lindsay, contingent Democratic Elector for the Eighth District, Hon. Thos. N. Stilwell, United States Minister to Venezuela and a member of the Thirty ninth Congress; Hon. John A. Gordon, of Indianapolis, and Robt. N. Hudson, of Terre Haute, all of whom were regarded as firm adherents of President Johnson's administration, have taken a bold stand for Grant and Colfax, and those of them who have not already done so will shortly take the stump.

IS YOUR DISEASE RHEUMATISM?

Many persons, supposing they are suffering from this disease, have applied Liniments, Plasters and other Rheumatic Remedies without obtaining any relief, when in fact the cause of pain is a derangement of the Kidneys. These are small organs, but very important, and any obstruction or interference with its functions are indicated by pain in the back and loins, languor and weakness, difficulty in avoiding and unnatural color of the urine. A Diuretic should t once be resorted to.

DR. SARGENT'S

Liuretic or Backache Pills

Can be relied on for these purposes; they have a direct influence on the cells of the kidneys, assists nature in relieving them of any foreign particles, and mulates them to a healthy and vigorous action

Dr. Sargent's Backache Pills

Contain nothing injurious, being composed of entirely vegetable remedies; they do not sicken nor gripe—on the contrary they act as a gentle tonic and restores tone to the system, They are recommended by all who who have tried them.

THE BODY RENEWED.

According to Physiologists, the human body is renewed once in seven years. Every day, every hour, every moment, the flesh, the cartilage, bone and muscle of the frame are wasting away, and being imperceptibly replaced by new material. Health depends upon the nature of that material, and whether it shall be pure or diseased, full of vitality and elasticity, or feeble and flaccid, depends mainly upon the action of the stomach. In warm weather the waste of the system is very rapid, and if it is not as rapidly repaired by the great sustaining organ, the consequence is debility, emaciation and decay. It is, therefore, of paramount importance that the stomach be kept in a vigorous condition at this trying season, and the safest, surest and best tonic that can be employed for that purpose is HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. This incomparable vegetable stomachic gives unwonted energy to the digestive powers, promotes the conversion of the food into healthful blood, (which is, so to speak, the raw material of all the solid portions of the body,) and thereby puts the system in the best possible state of defence against epidemic or other diseases. The strong require it to keep up their strength; the weak, to re-invigorate them. It consists of the purest of all diffusive stimulants, charged with the juices and extracts of the most genial roots and herbs, and is a permanent restorative—not a mere temporary excitant. It acts simultaneously upon the stomach, the bowels and the liver, and is the best known remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, costiveness and general debility.

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE EAR.

In observations and notes taken by Dr. KEYSER, of this city, on the various diseases of the ear, he says that nine out of ten cases could be cured in their incipiency if application were made to some responsible and competent aural surgeon. The Doctor quotes from the opinion of Wilde, a well known aural surgeon, who says: "I fear not to reiterate the assertion which I made on several former occasions, that if the disease of the ear were as well studied or understood by the generality of practitioners, and as early attended to as those of the eye, it would be found that they were just as much within the pale of scientific treatment. * * Deafness is so common and so distressing an infirmity, and when of long standing so incurable, that we cannot too strongly urge all medical practitioners to make themselves familiar with the treatment of the diseases of the ear."

The Doctor says that nearly all annoying Discharges, Buzzings and Morbid Growths peculiar to the organ of the hearing, some of which had lingered through a score or two of years, can be cured or ameliorated by proper treatment.

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

700 MILES

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

Are now finished and in operation, 160 miles of track have been laid this spring, and the work along the whole line between the Atlantic and Pacific States is being pushed forward more rapidly than ever before. More than twenty thousand men are employed, and it is not impossible that the entire track, from Omaha to Sacramento, will be finished in 1869 instead of 1870. The means provided are ample, and all that energy, men and money can do to secure the completion of this

GREAT NATIONAL WORK,

At the earliest possible day, will be done.

The UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY receive:

I.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right of way, and all necessary timber and other materials found along the line of its operations.

II.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, taken in alternate sections on each side of its road. This is an absolute donation, and will be a source of large revenue in the future.

III.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of United States Thirty-year bonds, amounting to from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, according to the difficulties to be surmounted on the various sections to be built. The Government takes a second mortgage as security, and it is expected that not only the interest, but the principal amount may be paid in services rendered by the Company in transporting troops, mails, &c. The interest is now much more than paid in this way, besides securing a great saving in time and money to the Government.

IV.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to aid in building the road, to the same amount as the U. S. Bonds, issued for the same purpose, and no more. The Government permits the Trustees for the First Mortgage Bondholders to deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the road is completed, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class Railroad, laid with a heavy T rail, and completely supplied with depots, stations, turnouts, carshops, locomotives, cars, &c.

V.—A CAPITAL STOCK SUBSCRIPTION from the stockholders, of which OVER EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS have been paid in upon the work already done, and which will be increased as the wants of the Company require.

VI.—NET CASH EARNINGS on its Way Business, that already amount to MORE THAN THE INTEREST on the First Mortgage Bonds. These earnings are no indication of the vast through traffic that must follow the opening of the line to the Pacific, but they certainly prove that upon such a property, costing nearly three times their amount, ARE SECURE BEYOND ANY CONTINGENCY.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

The Union Pacific Bonds run thirty years, are for $1,000 each, and have coupons attached. They bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July, at the Company's Office, in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. The price is 102, and at the present rate of gold, they pay a liberal income on their cost.

The Company believe that these Bonds, at the present rate, are the cheapest in the market, and reserve the right to advance the price at any time.

Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by

JAMES T. BRADY & Co., corner of Wood and Fourth Streets;

HART, CAUGHEY & Co., corner of Wood and Third Streets;

S. McCLEAN & CO., 75 Fourth Street;

AND IN NEW YORK

JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, No. 59 Wall Street, and by the Company's advertised agents throughout the United States.

Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the Bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. Parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A PAMPHLET AND MAP FOR 1868 has just been published by the Company, giving fuller information than is possible in an advertisement, respecting the Progress of the Work, the Resources of the Country traversed by the Road, the Means for Construction, and the Value of the Bonds, which will be sent free on application at the Company's offices, or to any of the advertised agents.

☞ THE APPETITE FOR

Tobacco Destroyed!

Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed, Tobacco.

One box of ORTON'S PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to destroy the appetite for tobacco in any person, no matter how strong the habit may be, ☞ IF IT FAILS IN ANY CASE THE MONEY WILL BE REFUNDED. It is almost impossible to break off from the use of tobacco by the mere exercise of the will. Something is needed to assist nature in overcoming a habit so firmly rooted; with the help of the preparation there is not the least trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that ORTON'S PREPARATION completely destroys the appetite for tobacco and leaves the person as free from any desire for it as before he commenced its use. It is perfectly safe and harmless in all cases. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions affected by tobacco, and through these upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing the poison of tobacco from the system, and thus allaying the unnatural cravings of tobacco.

NO MORE HANKERING FOR TOBACCO AFTER USING ORTON'S PREPARATION! RECOLLECT IT IS WARRANTED. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession:

[From W. P. Heald, Esq., Bangor, Me.]

BANGOR, Me., April 24, 1868.

I hereby certify that I have used tobacco for thirty years past, and for the last fifteen years I have used two pounds per month. I have made attempts to leave off at different times. I have left off one year at a time, but always continued to hanker for it until I used Orton's Preparation, which has completely cured me of the appetite for tobacco. I would recommend all who are affected with this terrible habit to try the preparation, which will certainly cure it if the directions are followed.

W. P. HEALD.

[From E. W. Adkins, Knoxville, Tenn.]

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., August 5, 1867.

This is to certify that I had used tobacco to such an extent that my health had become greatly impaired, my whole system deranged and broken down. In June, 1867, I purchased one box of Orton's Preparation, and after using it I found that I was completely cured. I have not had any hankering or desire for tobacco since using the preparation. I believe it to be all that it is recommended, and I would advise all who wish to quit the use of tobacco to try one box of Orton's Preparation.

E. W. ADKINS.

[From John Morrill, Bangor, Me.

BANGOR, Me., March 24, 1868.

This is to certify that I have used tobacco for eighteen years; have tried many times to leave off, but have suffered so much from a dizziness in my head, and gnawing at my stomach, that I have soon given up the trial. A short time since a friend induced me to try Orton's Preparation (sold by you.) I have done so, and am completely cured. I did not find the least hanker after tobacco, either to smoke or chew, after I began to use the Preparation.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, August 20, 1868.

The gold market was very weak at the close of the board, selling from 144¼ down to 143⅜. The short interest being much reduced, and money being dearer, lower rates are likely to be made during the next few days; also on September first some five millions of gold are coming into market for interest of ten-forty bonds, the bulls will have hard work to sustain the market.

Government bonds are still very dull and foreign bankers are no longer buyers; a large short interest is still uncovered by the large dealears which would indicate that lower prices are expected.

The stock market is weak in tone, although quotations favor a rise. Erie is moving in independently of the market, and looks still very dull and weak. Various rumors are circulated that commodore Vanderbilt had sold out, and that the stock was good for nothing. The balance of the list is slightly improved.

The New York Stock quotations to-day as received by Mr. Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold 143⅜; 1881's, 113¼; 5-20's, 1862, 113; do 1864, 108⅞; do 1865, 111; do new, 107⅜; do 1867, 107¾; 10-40's, 108¾; Cleveland & Pittsburgh 85¾; Fort Wayne, 106¾; Western Union Telegraph 53¼; Adams Express, 47¾; Erie, 35¼. New York Central, 125; Reading, 89¾; Michigan Southern, 82¾; Chicago & Rock Island, 89½; Chicago & North Western, 80⅝; do Preferred, 80¾.

—The failure which was reported in New York last week turns out to be that of Isett, Kerr & Co., brokers and bankers with western connections. We believe one member of the firm was formerly from Iowa. Their liabilities are not stated.

—Regarding the outstanding Seven Thirty notes, an exchange says: It appears from the books of the Treasury Department that there are outstanding of the various issue of Seven Thirty notes the following amounts. The time for their conversion into Five Twenties having expired, they are, therefore, payable in currency: First issue, August, 1864, $614,200. The time for conversion of this issue expired one year ago. Second issue, of June, 1865, $2,327,850. The time for conversion of this issue expired July 15. Third issue, of July, 1865, $4,863,800; the time for the conversion of which expired August 1. The total amount outstanding is $7,805,950.

Gold, 144¼; U. S. 6's, 1881's, 113½; 5-20's, 1862, 111¾; 5-20's, 1864, 108⅝; 5-20's, 1865, 110¾; 10-40's, 108¼; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 107⅝; 5-20's, January and July, '67 107; '68, 107½; June 7-30's, par less ¼ July 7-30's, do ¼ August 118¾; Sept. 118¼ Oct. 118; Union Pacific Railroad, 102; Central 103.

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

CATTLE.

The Central Stock Yards have been liberally supplied with Cattle during the past week, and prices are generally a shade lower. Some fine Indiana and Chicago Cattle sold at near the rates of last week. Most of the offerings were of a poor quality. Stockers, cows and bulls were in abundance. A few second class butchers took a number of bulls a nominal rates. Holders of all kinds were anxious to sell out, and, as a general thing, buyers had it their own way. The sales for the week under review were 888 head. The Cattle yards are in excellent condition, and free from all deceased stock. Prices since Monday last ranged at from $2,87 to $7,25 per cwt. Eastern buyers, and many new faces were out, but were not disposed to purchase to any extent. We quote the following sales:

Hedges & Taylor report as follows: 2 head bulls to Duffy at 3½; 21 head of fairish stockers to Lambert at 4⅝; 5, same kind, to Klemen at 5; 2 bulls to Landis at $25 per head; 1 cow, same buyer, at $22; 19 head fairish stock to R. Black at 5,70.

Holmes, Lafferty & Co. sold 28 head bulls to McGarvey at 2¾; 20 head fairish shipping stock to P. Klemen at 5,75; 16 do, common, to McGarvey at 4,25; 21 bulls to Klemen at 3; 21 head fairish shipping stock to same buyer at 5¾; 20 to same at 4,75; 21 to same at 5,50; 32 to same, pretty good shipping stock, averaging 1,400, at 6⅛.

A. Campbell sold 5 head of prime fat steers to Moses & Co. at 7 to 7,25; 37 good shipping cattle to Kurtz at 6, and 7 oxen to Pennock at 5¾.

Shaw sold Yohn 18 head of commonish stock, weighing 13,850, at 4,50. Wright to same buyer, 5 head, a grade better, at 4,75.

McCorkle sold 9 head bulls to Lytle at 3, and 10 stockers at 4,75.

Smith & Talmage sold 24 head of medium shipping stock to Forney at 5,50; 11 to Forney at 4,25.

Scott & Co. sold 21 head to Yohn, medium shipping stock at 5,55, and 22 head to Evans at 4,55.

Casteline to Klemen 21 head of bulls at 3, and 21 head of fairish shipping stock at 5¾.

Young to Diller 18 head of fairish shipping stock at 6; 3 head to same buyer at 5,50, and Zeigler to same buyer 20 at 6,10; 21 to Krall at 5,05.

B. McGarvey sold 9 head bulls to J. K. & Co. at 4, and 6 to Tomer at 3,25.

Pierce to Landis 23 head of common stockers at 4⅛.

Dolan & Co. to R. Black 57 head of good western stock, weighing 64,325 at 6,25.

Long to McArdle 34 head of prime shipping steers, weighing 41,625, at 7.

SHEEP.

The number of sheep brought to the yards the past week exceeds 20,000 head, and still they come. There are all kinds of sheep on sale from the poorest to the best, and all kinds of prices were going. Eastern buyers were not disposed to purchase except at low rates. The sales since Monday were over 10,000 head, and at the close of the market to day the yards were still full of sheep. Prices this week ranged from $2 to $4,55 per hundred, a wide range. It can only be said that prices are lower and nominal. We note the following sales:

Orr & Williams sold 196 head to J Adams at 3½; 202 to Pratt at 3¼; 199 to Aull & Myers at 4,20

Holmes, Lafferty & Co., sold 205 head to Musselman at 4; 226 to same, at 3,80; 197 to same at 3,80; 198 to same at 3,60; 205 to A. Dietrich at 3,60; 98 to Pearce & Co. at 4.

Hedges & Taylor sold 192 head to Musselman, prime weighing 17,200 at 4,55; 178 to Barclay, at 4; 100 head to Whitcomb at 4¼.

E. L. Hoxworth bought 126 from Hearthy at 3,37; 65 from Pumphrey at 3; 118 from Graff at 2,50; 88 from Wright at 2¼.

Pidcock & Co. bought 109 from Ripley at 4½; 114 from Lamb at 3,50; 100 from Winings at 4,50; 192 from Donahue at 4,40; 164 from Rockhill at 4,55; 382 from Taylor at 3; 189 from Westhfeer at 3; 192 from Blackwood at 3; 192 from Halser at $1,80 per head, and 207 from Hedges & Co. at 305.

HOGS.

The receipts for the week were about 5,000 head, but mostly of a poor quality; and the market was without much change, though a trifle lower. Prices range from $7,00 to $10,80 per head.

Singer & Imhoff bought for shipment to Philadelphia, 691 head at prices ranging from 9,50 to 10,80.

Crouse, Emerick & Co., bought 214 head in lots, for shipment to Philadelphia at 9,50 to 10,25.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

CRUDE—The market was considerably excited and panicky to-day, and with a pretty strong disposition to sell prices ruled lower. The sales were: 1,000 bbls August, seller, 13¼; 1,000 each September and October at 13¾; 1,000 immediate, private terms; 1,000 until December 1st, seller, at 12¾; and 1,000 same delivery and option, at 12½. The great proportion of the above sales were reported as having been made early in the day, as in the afternoon the same figures could hardly have been realized. Spot oil would not have brought over 13 cents, and we doubt whether September and October would have brought over 13½, if that. Oil City parties were willing to sell either for immediate or next month at $5, delivered on cars, but there were no buyers.

REFINED—There was quite a panic in the market for Refined oil, and prices compared with yesterday, have declined from one to one and a half cents. To illustrate, August which sold yesterday at from 33 to 32¾, sold to-day at from 31½ to 31; and August and September which brought 34 to 33¾, sold to-day at 32½, with only 32 bid at the close. The sales were: 2,000, in lots, for last half August, seller, at 31½; 500 at 31¼; 500 at 31½; and 500 at 31; 500 for September at 32; and 500 each for September and October at 32½. As will be seen from the above the "bears" had it pretty much all their own way, and, as a consequence, the "bulls" were very sick, though they entertain hopes that the present movement will soon be checked, and a reaction set in.

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, August 20.—In Woolen goods the trade continues to increase in volume, and prices dull, steady and firm at the opening, but the market for Cotton fabrics is still inactive, although where a concession has been yielded buyers have taken hold more freely. The great bone of contention, however, is about the price of Prints. The trade are holding back, expecting to obtain these goods at one shilling, which price is certainly one cent below the cost of production; but sellers are not disposed for the present to make any concession, and the Merrimack Company have advanced their prices for the D cloth to 14½@15. Richmond Prints are steady. Stark Sheetings reduced to 16, Amoskeag bring 16½, Lawrence D and Penn to 15, and Easter A to 13½; but goods must advance from these prices soon, or cotton must decline, which at present does not seem very probable, at least it will not decline in time to affect goods this autumn.

LETTER FROM COLORADO.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

DENVER, COLORADO, Aug. 13, 1868.

The plains, all the way from Monument to Denver, are rolling or undulating, and rise in altitude imperceptibly to the base of the mountain range. The climate of this region is very peculiar, owing to its altitude, its remoteness from large bodies of water, the composition of its soil, and its proximity to the great mountain range. It rains but seldom, occasional showers fall in the winter and spring; the summer days are hot, the thermometer often rising to 100 degrees; the nights are always cool and dewless. The great climate characteristic is intense sunshine and absence of moisture.

There are a few small running streams, the bottom lands on which are fertile and produce spontaneously luxuriant crops of grain, and where cultivated yield immense quantities of small grain, hay and vegetables. The uplands have a rich, warm, sandy and gravelly loam, and when irrigated produce even more abundantly than the bottom lands. The plains are everywhere covered with Buffalo and Gramma grass. Innumerable herds of buffalo, elk, deer, and antelope have subsisted from time immemorial on the rich grasses which afford the best pasturage in the world, summer and winter. On the Eastern side of the plains are many high bluffs composed chiefly of soft yellow marl. As you go Westward the bluffs gradually disappear until they are entirely lost, and then there are for more than a hundred miles high rolling ridges, smooth and unbroken, and covered with short, stunted, but very nutritious Buffalo grass.

About five o'clock in the afternoon the coach arrived at Fort Wallace. Here we were told that the Cheyenne Indians, dissatisfied with the refusal of the Government to distribute arms, had broken up their camp and were moving North on the war path, and that we were likely to encounter some of their braves, as the stage route passed directly through their chosen battle-ground. An officer from the Fort entered the coach with orders to the troops along the route to keep a sharp lookout for the red-skin warriors. He was armed with a Springfield rifle, two Colt's navy revolvers, a huge knife, three bottles of whisky, and written orders from his superior officer. He took his seat in the coach, leaned back in truly heroic style, deposited his arms, whisky and all between his feet on the bottom of the coach, and swore he would have need of "them all before morning." He traveled with us about a hundred and fifty miles, and loaded himself frequently from his whisky bottles, and nearly all the passengers with his abuse. He often issued orders to be followed in case of an attack. Those unarmed were to get out of the coach and run for their lives, while he would "pepper the d——m redskins" and cover the retreat. I had no desire to meet with a hostile band of savages, yet I often found myself wishing to hear the war hoop, that I might have the fun of seeing the officer leap out of the stage and run for his life, as I was sure he would do, notwithstanding all his boasting of his nerve and heroism.

The permanent buildings of Fort Wallace are constructed of blocks of the yellow marl aloe mentioned, a quarry of which has been opened in the bluffs South of the Smoky.

This stone is uniform in its texture, fine grained, and so soft as to be easily worked with carpenters' tools. It grows very hard on exposure to the influences of the atmosphere on account of the magnesia which it contains. The blocks are of various colors, white, red and yellow, which gives the building a variegated and beautiful appearance. The soil for miles, both east and west of the Fort, presents a sunburnt and very barren appearance, but it is altogether very probable that with irrigation by Artesian wells, or from streams, if practicable, that large crops of vegetable and the smaller and the hardier grains might be produced. From fifty miles east of Abilim to the Rocky Mountains corn will never be a profitable crop, on account of the shortness of the season and the coldness of the nights.

Pond Creek Station, some six miles west of Fort Wallace, is a town of five or six plank houses, and some fifty cotton tent shanties. Why there should be a "city" in such a miserable, bleak, bald, dry, sunburnt, barren plane is more than I could discover. What the people were doing and why they were there is a mystery. I looked keenly around, but could discover no "visible means of support" for the inhabitants.

One of the peculiarities of all the "cities"—for it only requires a grog shop, a grocery and an eating house to constitute a city of "great expectations" on the Plains—from Fort Hays to Pond Creek, which is the last "city" one passes till he reaches Denver, is, that there are no efforts made by the inhabitants to cultivate even a garden spot. This may arise from two causes: One, that the inhabitants are not permanent citizens. They are constantly on the wing. They remain at a place for while, till they pick up a few dollars and then they are up and off for another "city." The other cause is, doubtless, the want of rain. At some points water is very scarce. When I was at Monument it was selling at one dollar per barrel and brought by rail from a great distance.

I was much amused at the next station on the route after leaving Pond Creek. This station, the name of which I do not remember, in somewhat peculiar, from the fact that the buildings, stable and all are entirely underground, excavated in the sand and gravel. In these underground burrows were a few soldiers, two hostlers and about a dozen horses. Upon our arrival there from the "Fort," out came four or five soldiers, whose duty it is to protect the post against the depredations of the Indians. One of the soldiers, a genuine son of the Emerald Isle, as soon as our valiant officer had read to them his orders to be on the lookout for Indians, addressed the redoubtable Captain thus: "Misther Liftinant, kin ye be so kind and send us some midicine to pizen the rathelsnakes intirely. Sure and this mornin' I wus sleepin in my bid and I filt somthin cowld lyin acrost my lig, and I jump out quik as blazes, and it wus a div ish big rathlesnake. Thin I wint till put on my shoe, an I thought it filt a bit hivy like, an I turned it down an I give it a shake, an out runs anither of the ugly devils. Thers hundreds o' them down there in the Fort yit, yer honor, to crawl over us whin were sleepin"

The "liftinant" promised to send the poisoin, and gave the soldiers each a charge of benzine from one of his bottles. We all tumbled into the coach and set out for Cheyenne Wells.

At this point there is pretty good water, and I was told very fine grass, though I saw neither more water nor grass than are to be found in many other places on the Plains. It is here that the road turns southwest to Santa Fe, New Mexico. The route to Denver runs in an almost due westerly direction from this point. This is the point to which it is proposed in Congress to extend the subsidy of the Eastern Division. It is urged, I believe, that the road should be completed to Cheyenne Wells on account of the water and grass which are said to abound in this locality, and because the trains for New Mexico and Colorado are made up here. There is, no doubt, both water and grass in limited quantities, but what trains are made up here, or what they are made out of, would puzzle one to discover. Trains may sometimes stop here for water, they may have sometimes found indifferently good grazing, but there is nothing within one hundred and fifty miles of the place out of which to "make up a train."

Cheyenne Wells consists of a board stable in which the stage mules are kept, a small log hut where four soldiers play cards and watch for "Injuns," and another larger but inhabited by a sour looking woman and a much more sour looking man who breakfast the passengers on bad bread, rancid bacon and an execrable decoction they call coffee for the small sum of one dollar and fifty cents each meal.

The fact is that the money expended by Government and by private individuals in the construction of the Eastern Division Railroad is a total loss unless it is extended to the Rocky Mountains, unless it is made to reach Denver or some good point in Colorado or New Mexico, and finally extended to the Pacific, it will never be worth the ties on which the iron is laid. It will, if it stop at its present terminus, or even if constructed to Cheyenne Wells and there terminate, be nothing more than a huge elephant on the hands of its stockholders. I say this, because from Junction City, in Kansas, as far west as within seventy-five miles of the mountains, a distance of over three hundred miles, there is nothing, and there will be nothing for a whole generation to come to build up business for a road. It must reach into the rich mineral and agricultural regions of New Mexico, or be extended to the mines in Colorado, or it is worse than a useless speculation.

Yours, E. S. KAIZGWENH.

Notes of Travel.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

The summer of 1868 will be memorable in time to come for the long and excessively heated term.

The effects of the great heat are various and serious. Many deaths have occurred from it all over the world, and the universal stagnation in business is owing to it in great part.

This is the hottest summer ever known in Kansas. The thermometer stood from 120 to 140 in the sun, and yet, notwithstanding the great heat, no deaths from sunstroke are reported, owing, doubtless, to the constant breeze and pleasant nights.

The small grain crop has been fully up to the average, and wheat above the average, many fields yielding over thirty bushels to the acre.

The corn crops looked very promising until the middle of July, when the great heat appeared to scorch it, and in some localities it will be almost an entire failure.

In this connection I wish to make several points very distinctly.

1. It is seven years since the corn was even slightly injured in any way.
2. The injury done this year is not done by drouth but by heat.
3. The injury done is in spots and streaks and more extensive in the West, while in many localities large crops are being raised.
4. The heavy rain now falling (middle of August,) and cooling the atmosphere will probably bring out the late corn.
5. The most favorable time yet to emigrate to Kansas will be between now and the first of next May.

ALEX. STERRETT.
Manhattan, Kansas.

A TERRIBLE scene occurred recently at the Paris Odeon. An actor on the stage had to fire a pistol; some villain must have put a bullet into the pistol, and the consequence was that when the shot was fired, the bullet shattered the leg of a ballet girl standing behind the scenes. The doctors who were sent for, declared the leg must be amputated. This drove the poor girl to despair. "Oh!" she cried again, "It is not the pain that I am afraid of! But what is to become of me and my mother?" All her colleagues surrounded her, weeping, and trying to calm her, but her grief burst forth again and again. Finally, the manager hastened to her side, gave her a thousand franc note, and told her that he would give her a benefit in the course of a few days. This reassured her a little, and her leg was then amputated, while she convulsively clutched the bank note. The actor who had fired the shot was almost as distracted as the poor ballet girl. He knelt weeping beside her, and begged her to forgive him. Such a scene had never before been witnessed at the Odeon. The performance was at once interrupted, the manager explaining to the audience what had happened.

WE find the following in an English paper: "The overseers of Salford have placed twelve hundred and eight women on the register of electors for that borough. About five thousand women ratepayers have sent in claims to vote for the city of Manchester. At Alton, in Staffordshire the overseers have put the names of the female ratepayers as claimants of votes on the church door,"

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be adplied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

To Contractors.—We call the attention of contractors to an advertisement in to-day's paper for proposals to lay the Nicolson pavement on Second street, from Wood to Smithfield.

The Argument upon the motion for a new trial in the case of Arthur Ballou, convicted of violating the revenue law, was heard in the United States Court, before Judge McCandless, yesterday.

Abused his Wife.—Kate Boyd made information before Justice Ammon yesterday, charging her husband with assault and battery. She alleges that he beat and abused her shamefully. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Assessment Notice.—We call the attention of parties having property on Madison street to a notice of the City Engineer in to-day's paper, giving notice that the assessment for grading the same is now ready for examination at his office.

Disorderly House.—Thos. Scott made information before Alderman Lindsay, yesterday, charging Thomas Gordon with keeping a disorderly house on Wide alley. The accused was arrested, and in default of bail for a hearing, was committed to jail.

Nuisance.—Assistant Health Officer A. B. Williams made information yesterday charging Mr. Hœveler of the firm of Hœveler & Co., bone boilers at Negley's Run, with maintaining a nuisance. The accused was held to bail for his appearance at Court.

Surety of the Peace.—David Hanna made information before Justice Ammon yesterday against John Morer for surety of the peace. He alleges that Morer threatened to kill him. He also made information charging him with disorderly conduct. A warrant was issued.

Selling Liquor on Sunday.—David Ford made information before Alderman Bailie, yesterday, charging M. Betner and B. Bergner with selling liquor on Sunday. The accused keep a drinking saloon in the Fifth ward, this city. They were arrested and held for a hearing.

Held for Trial—Wm. Wilson, charged with robbing the mail, an account of which we published yesterday, waived a hearing yesterday and entered bail in the sum of $13,000 for his appearance at the special term of the U. S. District Court, which convenes on Monday next.

Pic-nic To-morrow.—At McFarland's Grove to-morrow a pic-nic will be given by the employes of the Crescent Tube Works, for which rather extensive preparation has been made. The grove can be reached by the Oakland passenger railway and also by the Pennsylvania Railroad to Roup's Station.

Disorderly Conduct.—George Ulrick made information before Justice Heisel yesterday, charging James Kennedy with disorderly conduct, and Jacob Miller preferred a like charge before the same magistrate against Wm. Simmerock. Warrants were issued for the arrest of both the disorderly gentlemen.

Cross Suits.—Ellen Gunning made information before the Mayor, yesterday, charging Mary, Mary Ann and Ellen Doyle with assault and battery, and Ellen Doyle made a similar charge at the same time and place against Ellen Gunning. The parties it appears were engaged in a regular fight. Warrants were issued for their arrest.

Grant Club Meeting.—The Grant and Colfax club of the Fourth ward, Allegheny, will hold a meeting at its headquarters, College Hall, corner of Sandusky and Lacock streets, Saturday, the 22d inst., at 7½ o'clock P. M. A full attendance of the members is desired, as business of importance will be brought before the meeting.

Larceny by Bailee.—Frantz Hozzle made information before Justice Ammon charging Adolph Zwanzig with larceny by bailee. He alleges that he left a watch in the care of the accused, valued at $50, and that same watch was disposed of by Zwanzig, and the money appropriated to his own use. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Zwanzig.

The Two Bridgets.—Bridget Kelly, of the Eighth ward, made information before Alderman Strain yesterday charging Bridget Kelly, of the Seventh ward, with assault and battery, and also for surety of the peace. She alleges that the Seventh ward Bridget came to her house and attacked her, beating her in a shameful manner, and also threatened to take her life. The beligerent Bridget was arrested and held for a hearing.

The Birmingham Grant and Colfax Club will hold a meeting in Market Hall tomorrow evening for the purpose of making arrangements to participate in the reception of General Carl Schurz on Monday evening. The young men of the borough, German and English, are invited to be present on the occasion, as it is desirable that Birmingham should be fully represented in the demonstration in honor of a distinguished patriot and the cause which he represents.

Larceny.—Joseph Park made information before Mayor Drum charging Fred. Back with larceny. The prosecutor keeps a drug store on Federal street, Allegheny, and it is alleged that the accused went into the cellar and stole several kegs of paint and other articles. He was arrested and a search warrant issued. Hs house was searched, but the articles were not found. At the hearing the clerk in the store testified that he saw the accused coming out of the cellar. He was held to bail for his appearance at Court.

Too Small for Two.—George Hanna and Charles Stewart it appears occupy a house in the Tenth ward jointly. There is but one front entrance, which is a narrow hall. Yesterday morning one of the parties was going out and the other coming in and a collision was the result. One censured the other and they finally got into a fight in which it appears Hanna was considerably worsted. He made information before Alderman Strain yesterday, charging Stewart with assault and battery. He was arrested and held for a hearing.

Notice will be given by the undersigned of the time and place of the meeting of the foregoing committees.

WM. C. MORELAND, Chairman.

The appointments were ratified by the meeting.

Through Mr. H. D. Crane, the Committee on Uniforms reported that the uniforms adopted by the Club could be obtained at $24 per dozen. The report was accepted and the Committee instructed to order one hundred outfits.

The same gentleman reported a constitution and set of by-laws for the government of the Club, which, after considerable debate and amendment were adopted.

The Committee on Hall reported that it was highly probable the permission to use City Hall would be obtained.

On motion of Mr. S. W. Reynolds, the regular meetings will be held hereafter on Tuesday evenings.

After a patriotic address by Mr. Sweeney, of Jefferson county, Pa., the meeting adjourned.

Meeting in East Birmingham—Organization of a Grant Club—Great Enthusiasm.

A meeting of the Republicans of East Birmingham was held last evening, on the Ormsby lot, at the corner of Railroad and Carson streets, for the purpose of completing the organization of the Grant and Colfax Club of that borough. The meeting was one of the largest and most enthusiastic which has been held in this district out-side of the city during the present campaign. The speakers' stand, which was only completed yesterday, was lighted with gas, and galy decorated with flags of various sizes, all bearing the names of Grant and Colfax.

The residence of Mr. Fred. Distler, which is on the opposite side of Carson street and fronting the speakers' stand, was brilliantly illuminated and decorated with flags and Chinese lanterns.

At eight o'clock the vast assemblage, which filled the vacant space in front of the speakers' stand, was collected together by excellent music by Kapphan's Band, at the conclusion of which A. Ammon, Esq., called the meeting to order, and, as Chairman from the Committee on Permanent Organization appointed at a previous meeting, then submitted the report recommending the following officers for the Club:

President—James P. Brown.

Vice Presidents—J. Jones, John L. Jordan, John O. Phillips, Thomas Irwin, David Shearing, Louis Heinrich, G. Stingel, C. J. Schultz, Peter Haberman, Joseph Keiling, James Johnson, J. R. Jacques.

Secretaries—Alex. P. McKee and George Trautman.

Treasurer—Adam Trautman.

Finance Committee—A. Ammon, Esq., John Foell, Milton Church, Jacob Gue, J. R. Jacques, William Henry, John N. Jarrett, John Siphord, C. Glosser, J. Zimmer, H. Zedel, John W. Black, Bartol Erbe.

Committee on Naturalization—J. R. Jacques and James P. Brown.

The report was unanimously adopted.

In the absence of the President of the Club Mr. J. Jones presided and introduced

H. C. MACKRELL, ESQ.

Mr. Mackrell said that when he left home he expected to meet, perhaps, a hundred men, who would assemble for the purpose of organizing a Grant Club. He had no idea of being called upon to address such an immense audience as was there assembled, and if the outpouring of the people at this meeting was an indication of how the people intended to vote, as it certainly was, there would be a poor chance for the Democracy at the next election.

The speaker held tha the men who were arrayed against the Republican party in the present campaign were the men who had been arrayed against the country for the past seven years. He then canvassed the records of the two parties for the past eight years, showing that the one had endeavored to destroy the goveanment, while the other had sustained it. He referred to the record of Seymour, who during the war had opposed every measure adopted by the Government to crush the rebellion and sympathized with traitors, and said that it was right that the Democracy or the rebels should have such a man to lead them. Mr. Mackrell spoke for over an hour, and his remarks were not only attentively listened to, but loudly applauded by the audience.

H. H. M'CORMICK, ESQ.

The Chairman then introduced H. H. McCormick, Esq., who made a forcible and telling speech.

Mr. McCormick said he was satisfied to see so large a crowd of intelligent people assembled. He would not detain them long, however, as he intended to make his remarks as brief as possible. The speaker then in a most eloquent and forcible manner referred to the patriotism of the Northern people in the struggle to crush the rebellion which had been forced upon them under Democratic rule and by Democratic leaders, and said that the love of country was yet sufficiently strong to save the government in this hour of its greatest peril. His remarks, although brief, were to the point and were enthusiastically received by the audience. He is a ready speaker and handles his subject with a tact many older speakers might envy. We regret that we have not space to give the remarks of both the speakers at length, as the arguments were able and would doubtless have a telling effect on all who read them.

At the conclusion of Mr. McCormick's remarks the meeting adjourned with three cheers for Grant and Colfax and the State and County ticket.

Decision Under the Bankrupt Law—Important Questions Settled.

In the bankrupty branch of the United States District Court Thursday morning, Judge McCandless delivered an opinion on the questions raised in the case of Gordon, Miller & Co. vs. Scott & Allen, bankrupts, which was argued some time since by Mr. Marshall, of Erie, for the creditors, and by Col. Benjamin Grant for the respondents. Following is the opinion of the Court:

The questions presented are material to both the debtor and creditor, as well as to gentlemen of the legal profession. They have been raised to settle a matter of practice, about which there has been much diversity of opinion.

This is a case of involuntary bankruptcy. The debtors filed their answer, denying the acts of bankruptcy alleged in creditor's petition, and demanded a trial by jury, which was allowed. There was a trial, and the jury rendered a verdict that the facts set forth in the petition were not true. It then became the duty of the Court, under the 14th section of the Act, to dismiss the proceedings, and the respondents were entitled to recover costs.

They filed their bill, to which the creditors except.

1. That the subpœna having been served by the party, and not by the Marshal, the fees for service and mileage are not recoverable.

It is true that the Marshal is the Executive officer of the Court, and may be directed by the Court to serve it; but the mandate of the writ is not to him, but to the witness, who is commanded to appear and testify. As there is no legislation of Congress directing the service of a subpœna by the Marshal, we do not feel disposed to depart from the practice of the State Courts, which has always permitted the party to serve the precept, and allowed him costs for the same. The first section of the act of 24th of September, 1799, requires the Marshal "to execute throughout the district all lawful precepts directed to him, and issued under the authority of the United States." But the subpœna is not directed to him, but to the witness, and the Marshal might legitimately refuse to serve it, unless commanded so to do by an order of the Court. The party is interested in the production of the witness, and we can see no good reason why, if he serves the writ, he should not be paid for it.

It is further objected that the distance charged for mileage was not actually traveled, but as there are no proofs to sustain this allegation, it is dismissed. The first exception is overruled.

2. The second exception raises the question whether the docket fee of $20, allowed to the attorney of the successful party in the Courts of the United States, is properly taxable in Bankruptcy, and, so far as this Court is advised, it is a question of the first importance.

It is clear that in cases of voluntary bankruptcy it is not allowable; but we are of the opinion, that in those of involuntary bankruptcy, where there is a trial by jury, that it is taxable, as also in those voluntary cases, where, under the 31st section of the Act the Court is authorized to direct a trial upon specifications of objections to the bankrupt's discharge. By the Act of the 26th of February, 1853, it is provided that "in lieu of the compensation now allowed by law to attorneys, solicitors, and protectors in the United States Court," the following and no other compensation shall be taxed and allowed: In a trial before a jury in civil and criminal causes, or before a referee, or on a final hearing in equity or admiralty, a docket fee of twenty dollars. In cases at law, where a judgment is entered without a jury, ten dollars, and five dollars where a cause is discontinued. These are all in cases of adversary proceedings, and the distinction is drawn between a "trial" and judgment without a trial. The word "trial" here, as illustrated by Mr. Justice Story, in 4 Mason 235, means a trial by jury. The pleadings may be filed, the issue made up, but until the jury is sworn, there is no trial. In the case before us there was an issue, the jury were sworn, there was a trial, and a verdict against the creditors. Besides, General Orders in Bankruptcy 31, "costs in contested adjudications," provides that "in cases of involuntary bankruptcy, where the debtor resists an adjudication, and the Court, after hearing, shall adjudge the debtor a bankrupt, the petitioning creditor shall recover, to be paid out of the fund, the same costs that are allowed by law to a party recovering in a suit in equity; and in case the petition is dismissed, (as in this case,) the debtor may recover like costs from the petitioner."

The second exception is, therefore, also overruled, and the Clerk is directed to tax a docket fee of twenty dollars to the Attorney for the respondents.

A Funny Case.

A German made information before Alderman Johns, yesterday, charging John Bell, a negro, with perjury. It appears that Bell purchased a pair of boots from the prosecutor some time since, for which he was to pay six dollars. Having but two dollars in cash, he could not get the boots without he could get credit. The German agreed to let him have the boots if he would swear to pay the balance at a certain time. Bell expressed his willingness to do so, and accordingly went before the Alderman above named and was sworn. The time arrived at which his oath was to be redeemed, but Bell did not have the money, and consequently was a perjured man. He did the best he could, however, and returned the boots to the prosecutor, who now holds the boots and the two dollars, but not being satisfied, he prosecuted the negro for perjury. He will have the costs to pay, if we mistake not.

Church Notes.

The First Cumberland Presbyterian Church, Sixth street, will be reopened for Divine worship on Sabbath morning next. It has been renovated thoroughly, and now presents a very handsome and attractive appearance. The Congregation may well feel proud of the Christian zeal, energy and enterprise of Rev. Squires, their talented pastor.

The First Presbyterian Church, Wood street, is being handsomely repainted and renovated in the interior. Its lofty ceiling is to be grained in imitation of maple and white oak.

The interior and exterior of the Fifth Presbyterian Church, Smithfield street, near Sixth, is being thoroughly painted.

The south tower of St. Paul's Cathedral is rapidly making its way heavenward. Work will hardly be commenced on the north tower before next April.

New Treatment.—For chronic diseases of the eye, ear, head, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, &c., at Dr. Aborn's Medical and Surgical Rooms, 134 Smithfield street, half a square from the Postoffice. No charge for consultation. tf

BROTHERS: Circumstances beyond my control have delayed the writing of this letter. In my last letter I proposed in this one to commence an examination of the record of the two parties that ask our suffrage. The older, the "Democratic" party, claims the first notice.

The "Democratic" party claims to have been founded by Thomas Jefferson, upwards of seventy years ago. That illustrious statesman was a patriot, and it is a gross insult to his memory to charge him with the crime of founding such a party. Compare the Declaration of Independence, written by him, with the avowed principles of that party, and you must admit that they cannot be reconciled. But while I denounce the attempt of modern Democracy to claim such noble parentage as absurd and fraudulent, I must confess I cannot determine the year of its birth or its paternity. I incline to the opinion that, like Topsy, it was not "borned," it "growed."

A friend of mine who sees the Post occasionally, suggests that it (the "Democratic" party) belongs to the Foul Persuasion; he thinks that the egg was laid in Tophet, and was mis laid for a time; was found and hatched by Calhoun, but the growth of the thing having been retarded by the severe treatment it received from President Jackson, it was slow in developing, and did not attain its full growth until 1861. By the way, it may be that the mistake of claiming Thomas Jefferson as its father arises from the fact that one "Jefferson" Davis (of crinoline fame) adopted it and gave it all the vitality it has ever enjoyed.

Without attempting, therefore, to begin with the inception of the "Democratic" party, I must take up its record from the time when it first became prominent as a party. I could give its history in detail, as I have closely studied it. But this would require more space than the GAZETTE'S well-filled columns would allow, unless it were absolutely necessary. It is sufficient to assert, as the history of our country proves, that it has always been thoroughly sectional. Its ablest leaders being Southern men, it has ever been manipulated in the interest of the South. Among its Northern members were some good and true men, but they were hopelessly in the minority—the Southern leaders and the Northern "dough-faces" had complete control of the party for many years, while those who wished, were afraid to oppose the Southern tyrants and their "dough-face" allies.

Not only the "Democratic" party, but through it the Nation became subject to the South, and you cannot forget how arrogantly and tyranically the South ruled us. The Whig party, once the bulwark of our liberties, surrendered, and soon died an inglorious death. The American party sprang into existence, grew rapidly, and might have become the saviour of our country; but it, too, succumbed to the South, and its decline and decay were more swifter than its growth. In the meantime the South had been reduced almost to the condition of slaves. Under the guise of "compromise" we have given up all our rights; we had become slave-catchers for our Southern masters. Unfortunately for us, while some dared to oppose the Southern rule, the opposition was too extreme to win support generally. The masses, anxious to keep the peace, and to avoid war, allowed themselves to sacrifice principle after principle, right after right, until it seemed a hopeless task to recover our liberties and our rights. But, thanks be to Him who overrules all things, as we owed our enslavement to the "Democratic" party, we owe partially to a portion of that party our disenthralment. So absolute had been the sway of the South in the "Democratic" Party that it dared not press a candidate who had become in any way obnoxious to the South. No Northern man, unless an undeviating supporter of the South and of Southern plans, could get the nomination of that party. Although a lifelong Democrat, and more Southern than Northern in his views, Stephen A. Douglas had refused to obey the South in one instance, and hence the South insisted that he should not be President. Some of the Northern and especially Western Democrats, however, tired of yielding abject obedience to the South, and having unbounded love and admiration for Mr. Douglas, determined that he should be the nominee of the party, with or without the consent of the South. The result is too well known to need repetition here.

This brings us to the record of the Seymour-Blair "Democratic" party. But of this, I will write again. L. M.

The Walking Match—Condition of the Pedestrians after the Fifty-Third Hour's Walking, &c.

The walking match to which we made reference yesterday is still going on in the yard of the Cottage Saloon, Fifth street, near Wood. We visited the men about one o'clock this morning and found them much the worse of their fifty-three hours' exertion and abstinence from sleep. Keefer appeared the brightest of the two, although he complained of sore knee joints and heels. The calves of his legs appeared much swollen, and his eyes looked ready to burst. He was not so sanguine of walking the hundred hours as at first, but he feels that he will win the wager, believing that he will out-walk his rival. Miles was not very cheerful but he walked with a light elastic step, which betokened that he is far from becoming exhausted. He said his limbs were all right with the exception of the soles of his feet, which were well blistered. His calves too appeared considerably swollen, and his eyes had the same appearance as those of Keefer. He is hopeful of winning. A physician last evening felt the pulses of both and asserted that at the time Miles had more energy left than his competitor; but medical knowledge cannot discover which may give out first. The long hours of night are the hardest on the men, as they grow sleepy, having but little to excite them and keep them awake, only a few guards being present to watch them that they may faithfully perform their part in the match on which so much money is wagered. The contest excites a great deal of attention among sporting men. It is hardly probable that either will succeed in walking till the hundredth hour is out, and the one that does we should not like to take an insurance risk on his life. The time expires tomorrow evening at seven o'clock, and the last man on his feet wins the wager and pockets the sum of $1,000.

Effect of Advertising.

We are not a little gratified with an order received yesterday for doubling the space of an advertisement inserted in the GAZETTE, during the past month, by one of our most extensive mill owners. His object at the time of its insertion was to ascertain whether there was virtue enough in newspapers to revive his languishing business. His testimony is that he is now so pressed with orders that the continuance of the advertisement is no longer necessary. But his second and wisest thought was running his mill a double turn, and enlarging his space in our advertising columns. The party referred to is of the highest responsibility, whose name will be given to any interested inquirer.

Sudden Death—Coroner's Inquest.

The death of Mr. E. T. Lainer, which occurred Wednesday evening about four o'clock at his residence on Grantham street, Fourth Ward, Allegheny, has created considerable talk and conjecture in consequence of the circumstance attending it. He was taken sick on the morning of Saturday, the 15th inst., apparently with cholera morbus. Dr. L. H, Williard was called and administered the usual remedies. The patient grew no better, and began to develop strange symptoms, such as usually do not accompany cholera morbus. On the morning of the 16th he was worse, and vomited and purged violently. His symptoms were such at this time as to lead to the belief that he was laboring under the effects of mercurial poison, and antidotes for corrosive sublimate were administered. No benefit resulted, however, and yesterday afternoon, as stated, the patient died. The physician is still of the opinion that he died from the effects of mercurial poison, but nothing has transpired so far other than the symptoms to justify this conclusion. Vague rumors are in circulation in regard to the matter, but so far as we could ascertain they are without foundation. It was stated that his wife was also suffering from the effects of poison, which, however, is contradicted. She has been an invalid for several years, and the shock produced by the sudden demise of her husband has doubtless affected her considerably. She is quite unwell at present but her physicians say there are no symptoms of poison attending her case.

Corner Clawson was notified of the sudden death of Mr. L. and at the request of his physician and others will hold an inquest on the body. A jury was empanelled yesterday morning, after which the inquest adjourned to be resumed this afternoon at two o'clock and in the meantime a post mortem examination will be made. The deceased was thirty-four years of age, and leaves a wife but no children. He was a clerk in the freight department of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway. He resided formerly at Macon, Georgia.

MORTGAGES.

After Gravel.

John S. Evans is the proprietor of a gravel pit near Oakland Station, and alleges that Timothy Burns has been in the habit of going to his pit early in the morning for several days past and hauling away his gravel. Yesterday morning he was on the look out and when Timothy came, as was his custom, Evans refused to let him have any gravel, whereupon he alleges Timothy attacked and beat him with his whip and threatened to kill him. Deeming discretion the better part of valor, Evans left the premises and made information before Alderman Strain, charging Burns with assault and battery, and also, an information for surety of the peace. Burns was arrested and held for a hearing. He then made information before the same Alderman, charging Evans with assault and battery. Evans was likewise arrested and held to bail for a hearing.

Malicious Mischief.

Joseph C. Dorrington made information before Alderman McMasters, yesterday, charging L. Hofnaegle and others with malicious mischief. It appears that Mr. D. was crossing the river at Jones' Ferry, on the ferry boat, having a wagon loaded with sacks of oats, and the accused, who are market men, living on the South Side, were returning home and also had their teams. He alleges that they drove their horses close up to the rear of his wagon and they commenced tearing his sacks. He requested them to move them away, but they refused to do so, and when he attempted to keep the horses from tearing the sacks the defendants attacked him with their wagon whips and drove him off his own wagon, and the consequence was that several of his sacks were torn and a quantity of oats wasted. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Finger Amputated.

Mr. William Snyder, engineer at the Iron City Agricultural Works, Ferry street, J. C. Wilson & Co., proprietors, met with a serious accident yesterday, by which he will probably lose the use of his right hand. Mr. S. was working at a circular saw when, by some means, his left hand was caught and four of the fingers terribly cut and lacerated. The second finger was so badly injured as to render amputation necessary, and Dr L. F. LeMoyne was called upon and performed the operation. The accident is a peculiarly unfortunate one, as Mr. Snyder received a gunshot wound during the late rebellion, which carried away the second finger of his right hand and rendered the hand almost useless.
